SUPERINTENDENT E. L. BOWSHER

Successfully regulating a school system as extensive as ours in Toledo requires a breadth of vision and of experience. Many factors must be weighed in developing overall school policies. The wisdom of Superintendent Bowsher's decisions is reflected in each school in the Toledo System. We of the Senior Class of Libbey High School extend to him our thanks for his outstanding leadership.

The administrative demands upon the principal of a high school are exacting and various. In our four years at Libbey we have observed Mr. Rusie's judicious solving of school problems. We have found him to be our mentor and friend. For his wisdom in administration and his kindly guidance, we of the Senior Class of Nineteen Fifty-Four wish to express our appreciation and esteem.

With the help of Mr. Rusie, Bob Marohn and Ed Mauntler plan a senior year packed with events that are sure to be stored forever in our book of memories.

An integral part of Libbey was lost with the death of our beloved teacher, Ruth Anne Dusha. As faculty editor of the Edelian, adviser since its inception of the Periclean Literary Society, co-adviser of the Future Teachers of America, and farmer Chairman of the English Department, she contributed to many facets of school life. The myriads of us whose lives she enriched will long remember her selftessness, her enthusiasm, and her insight into the human heart. The deep and invincible spirituality which was reflected in her wondrous power of expression will shine through life's dark days. Even while grieving, we will take heart in recalling the aura of joyous faith which was with her always. In reverent remembrance and heartfelt appreciation we dedicate to her this Edelian of Nineteen Hundred Fifty-Four.

INMEMORIAM

I am a teacher.

From the hallowed Teacher of mankind I have learned to pray. He has taught me that my wants are very simple. This day my daily bread.

My fears indeed are few: Let me not be led into temptation.

While striving to fulfill the tasks to which my talents have assigned me, in my long hours of discouragement

May I remember that surely never mine, but His, is all the kingdom

When I would wish that many men might honor me,

May I then truly know that never mine, but His, is the great power.

And in the day of my success when pride might come attempting to destroy my soul,

With humble, contrite heart may I rejaice that not within this world for me Only for Him, will be the wandrous glary, forever and forevermore Throughout eternity

DEDICATION

WALTER B. LYNN Remember.

It is a great teacher whom students accord love and respect Walter B. Lynn was such a teacher. He had an unusual understanding of young minds and hearts. Seldom was his voice raised in anger or impatience; he taught us by being as he wished us to be. All of us who knew him revered and loved him for the fineness of his example. The human wisdom he imparted has strengthened us for the decisions ahead. We do not say farewell for he will be with us throughout our lives as we strive to follow in his path of integrity and high mindedness.

in December members of the Edelian staff were saddened by the death of their adviser, Miss Ruth Dusha whose untiring efforts year after year had been so argely responsible for the continuing success of the publication. Without the wise course of Miss Dusha, the staff realized that it would have to work doubly hard if there were to be a 1954 Edelian. Relying heavily upon the advice and experience of Mir. Charles Martin, Business Director, and Principal Loy W. Russe through the trials of layout copy and proof the class succeeded in having the yearbook ready for the Senior Banquet, traditional Edelian distribution-time.

Janet Becker and Jane Fenner were coled tars for the year, Judy Denzig and Pat Fearnside were faculty editors. Norma Duffeck Ann Schicher and Carolyn Wender were senior editors. Rhea Altenbaugh. Danna Callaghan, Arley McFadden, and Pat Moore were club editors. Barbara Pelton, Margie Saccucci, and Susan Schnell were class editors. Susan Coulter and Anne Fonaff were snapshot editors. Dick Howland, Ned Neal, and Jim Thompson were athletic and ayout editors. Mrs. Jane Roberts was the substitute faculty adviser working with the group.

Each year approximately twenty-two juniors and forty seniors enjoy the prestige and honor attained by election to the Libbey Chapter of the National Honor Society. The purpose of the National Honor Society to promote scholarship leadership character and service is an objective which serves as an inspiration to underclassmen as well as upperclassmen. During the post year this active group sponsored a number of worthwhile projects and stimulating social activities. One of the bright events of the Christmas season was the Christmas party at Wendy Kuebier's home. A post induction party for new members provided just the right festive touch after the solemnity of the induction ceremony Joyce Frank headed the competent committee in charge of arrangements. A quiz show given by the society second semester increased the scholarship fund considerably Jo Krueger and Darryl Hawn were co-chairmen for this money making venture. Cancillang event of the year was a spring roast.

Skillfully executing their duties were afficers. James Wahl, president Virginia Potter, vice president Anita Thompson, secretary. William Huepenbecker, treasurer and the three new cabinet officers. Judy Denz g, social chairman. Bob McIlvain, project chairman, and Arley McFadden, activity chairman. Much of the Society's success was attributed to Miss Jean Gilbert, National Honor adviser.

Another year of service to Libbey has been completed by Student Council. Beside salving problems of many origins with which it was confronted, the Council also originated many worthwhile school wide activities. It managed the freshman elections and the Thanksgiving Day Queen election, guarded the stairways before school and spansored the Community Chest Drive and the magazine drive. The Council also supervised the Area Spartsmanship Contest in which libbey placed first in the city in football sportsmanship. Among the activities on the social calendar were the dance following the Libbey Waite football game, the dinner after the successful magazine drive, the Area Student Council Dance. Artistry in Rhythm, and the annual spring roast Responsible for the councils many successful undertakings were. Miss Grace Henderson, adviser. Bob Marohn, president, Al Jamison, vice president. Living up to the motto of the Periclean Literary Society, Second to None, requires wholehearted effort. The Peries displayed such effort in their accomplishments this past year. Their first activity was the oustanding Thanksgiving Mass Meeting. Showboat, directed by co-chairmen Delores Martin and Nancy Ohler. During the Christmas season, the Peries remembered to cheer others with the traditional Peri Christmas basket. In March, new members were installed at an initiation teal planned by Nancy Rubadeux. The annual teal for Perimothers further brightened the spring season. Final social event of the year was a dance spansared by the girls' literary societies following their banquets May 15.

The Peries suffered a great lass with the death of their beloved adviser, Miss Ruth Dusha, last December Miss Dusha had guided the Periclean Literary Society since its founding. Mrs. Harriett Pheatt, who became the new Periodviser is much to be commended for encouraging the group to complete the year successfully Officers were Jane Fenner, president, Jeanne Ricker vice president audy Denzig treasurer, Anne Schlicher, recording secretary, Danna Callaghan, corresponding secretary, Marilyn Rosa, chaptain and Sharon Cupp, censor.

Ann Taylor, vice president. Yvanne Griffith, secretary. Shirley Eisenmann, treasurer. Suzanne Reetz, senior representative. Mar ee Abel Junior representative, and Daria Kreps, reporter.

Spark a was added to school life by the humorous guips and cartoons featured in the lib, a publication of the Art Department of Libbey Combining their talents to produce the tophight magazine were twenty four art students, eight seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and ten freshmen. With "Work!" as their motto, members of the staff published three clevery. Lustrated issues this year Duplicating was done by the office practice classes with Mrs. Mary O. Houser. Director. The professional guidance of Miss Hazel E. Bailley. Art Adviser, accounted for the high caliber of the art work.

DYNYOUGH

The need for teachers is an ever-present problem, and thus it is that the motto of the Future Teachers of America is to interest good students in becoming teachers. Since its establishment the FTA club of stibbey has accomplished much to inform Libbey students of the possibilities in the teaching profession and to stimulate a bibeyites to enter the teaching field. Club organization was delayed this year because of the death of colladorer Miss Ruth Dusha However under the guidance of Miss tene Foster and Mrs. Louise MeMey, who so ably worked with the group during this critical time a full program of work was planted and successfully completed. To provide money for a scholarship like FTA sold Libbey bookcavers. In observance of its motto the club sponsored daily broadcasts and arranged a builtern board display to advertise. Teacher Career Week, in March On the sacial agendal were a banquet in May and a tea for teachers May 10. Officers of the 1954 term were Ruby Browning president Borbaro Bodilivice president and Nancy Reuter secretary treasurer.

CHARLES R MARIN

We of Libbey believe that we have in Mr. Charles Martin the finest Athletic Director in the city. The enthusiasm and ability which he has consistently brought to his position over these past seventeen years have resulted in schedules which have tested our teams and put Libbey on top. We wish to commend and thank him for his important service to Libbey.

HERMAN HARDING

Libbey is fortunate to have a man of Mr. Harding's caliber as Varsity Football Coach. He is greatly respected by Libbey students, teachers, and fans for the sportsmanship which he develops in his players. Under his direction, varsity team members learn the ethics as well as the tactics of football. Coach Harding's high ideals serve as an inspiration to all.

LEO CAMPEY

Another year is over, and once again our Assistant Varsity Football Coach, Mr. Robinson, has met the challenge of helping turn out a successful team. Preparation for the varsity squad was afforded players by the untiring efforts of Al Jeffery and Don Harris, coaches of the Lightweight Squad, and Bill Wirick, coach of the Freshman Squad. George Miley ably assisted in coaching football and also coached the baseball team.

The Varsity Basketball Team of which we were all so justly proud was trained by Coach Al Jeffery. Leo Campey, Reserve Basketball Coach, and Phil Moses, Freshman Basketball Coach, played an important part in seasoning recruits. Bill Wirick was Track and Cross Country Coach. Sprains and bruises suffered by Libbey athletes were carefully tended by Drs. H. R. Carbin, Wilmarth Paine, and C. Lewis Stevens, Mr. Orville Henrion functioned efficiently as Mr. Mortin's assistant.
